Customer Reviews

How happy and pleased I am that Stan and Jan Berenstain's son has continued with their Bear books. I have loved all of them and have shared them with numerous children over the years. I especially like this one When I Grow Up because it is such a good one for little people to begin their thinking about careers. I would definitely want this book in an elementary school library and the classrooms as well. The illustrations as always are great. The color is brilliant and the story is excellent. It is never too early to begin pondering the ideas of what to do when you are grown up. More of our children need to start thinking that way. This is a very good book especially when studying careers at school. I am a great fan of the Berenstains. Keep them coming!

We love Berenstain Bears books, but this one was terrible. There are so many great ways to talk about this topic, I was baffled at the presentation in this book...brother and sister bumped into the professor in the park and then called their mom and dad on a cell phone to ask permission to get onto his bus then rode some sort of magical bus that toured them through all the career possibilities it was weird and dumb and awkward. If you read the Dino Dig then you know who the professor is, but if you didn't then he'd be a new character and it even weirder. Pass on this one.

I Love the Bear books and have since my grandpa bought me a stack while a young reader. I'm 34 and I buy all the new ones and read to my young readers. I pull out the old ones all the time especially during the holidays!!!

I like how these books are so simple to understand, the illustrations are inviting, yet the reading is actually more challenging than you'd think for children. They are always surprised to know that the book level is higher than what they thought.

My 6 years old daughter enjoy this readings, they are so up-to-date with real daily basis family situations. If she likes it, I love it.

Our family loves this series. My parents read to me as a child and now I enjoy reading it to my own children.

My 5 and 6.5 year old love these books (I love that they have good values and they are Christian books)

All these books are written well and have a great lesson to them. We love them all.
