Compline may very well be the most beautiful service of the Daily Offices if not the entire 1979 Book of Common Prayer. Prayed at night before bedtime, its soothing words prepare one for a peaceful night. This kindle edition is wonderful for those who read the Kindle at night. When it comes time for bed, one simply switches to Compline to pray this night office, turn out the light, and rest in God. "Guide us waking, O Lord, and guard us sleeping; that awake we may watch with Christ, and asleep we may rest in peace." "Keep watch, dear Lord, with those who work, or watch, or weep this night, and give your angels charge over those who sleep. Tend the sick, Lord Christ; give rest to the weary, bless the dying, soothe the suffering, pity the afflicted, shield the joyous; and all for your love's sake. Amen."

I haven't done Compline in several years since I lost my home church. Compline is a perfect end to each day and even if I don't read through it each day, I know it is always there when I need a familiar way to end my day.

I purchased this to help me have something I could use in the evening at the end of a long or stressful day. I have used this service over and over as it has become a staple for my end of day routine. It is calming when I feel upset, and uplifting at all times. I am so very glad to have purchased this service - even though I have a prayer book - this is always right where I can find it and use it.

This booklet containing the complete Compline service is perfect for groups and can be easily converted to personal service. It contains several options and offers a variety of suitable psalms, the bedrock of the Office of Hours. I use my copy as often as possible.

Possibly the most beautiful passages in the Book of Common Prayer, the Compline or evening prayer. A lovely and meaningful way to end each day.

I have encountered some of this material in the Book of Common Prayer and in Hour by Hour. This truly has a feel of the shared monastic prayers. I love it's peaceful blessing to the mind, body, and spirit before bedtime. What a wonderful to let the day's stress slip away!

Perfect for the end of the day, and reading it by oneself or in community. I appreciate whomever put this version together.

compline is a very old service used as a preparation for day's end. It is wonderful to have it in my ipad.
